Happy June, OPWG Members! This has been another exciting quarter for the OPWG with publications, ballots, and the possibility of a new subgroup!

OPWG Consensus Document Publication!

Members are already aware that the Clinical Pathology Subgroup completed their consensus document titled ‘The Use, Publication, and Future Directions of Immunocytochemistry in Veterinary Medicine’. This consensus document was very well-received by OPWG members and passed consensus by an overwhelming majority. The Executive Committee is very pleased to announce that this consensus document was accepted for publication in Veterinary and Comparative Oncology and is currently available as early view online! This represents the first publication of the Oncology Pathology Working Group! A very special thank you, not only to all the members of the Clinical Pathology Subgroup for their time and dedication for this remarkable accomplishment, but also to all of the OPWG members who originally reviewed the consensus document and voted on the ballot. A number of other OPWG subgroups are in the final stages of their consensus documents, and we are confident this is the first of many publications from our amazing members!

Welcome to New Members:

We want to extend a warm welcome to our newest OPWG members who have joined since November 2015: Regan Bell, Patty Ewing, Katherine Hughes, Linda Johnson, Joanne Messick, Melissa Miller, Michelle Morges, Melanie Spoor, Connie Stevenson, Dilini Thilakaratne, and Austin Viall

Stay Tuned!

Voting-eligible members recently voted on the initiation of a new Canine Prostate Tumor Subgroup. Stay tuned to your email for result of this ballot as well as the subgroup chair!
